3-2w KOHN & PETREQUIN.

Farmers are complaining of too much rain. It started last Saturday and kept up almost continuously for five days. Very little wheat has been cut and it is all dead ripe. What has been cut is already beginning to sprout.

Not many business houses in these United States can boast of fifty years' standing. The business of Dr. J. C. Ayer & Co., Lowell, Mass., whose incomparable Sarsaparilla is known and used everywhere, has passed its half-centennial and was never so vigorous as at present.

Subscriptions for any magazine or newspaper in the country received at this office.

Rev. Father Bahr celebrated his first mass at the Catholic Church in this city last Sunday. Visiting clergymen from every parish in the county were present. Father van Torenhout delivered an English sermon and Father Hattler of Weingarten spoke in German.

There is nothing so important to operate a machine successfully as good oil and we therefore state that we handle all grades of oil which are suitable for the different kinds of machines and at very low prices.

3-2w KOHN & PETREQUIN.

Many a man, who has been sent to an early and even suicidal grave by the tortures of dyspepsia, would be alive and well today, had he tested the virtues of Ayer's Sarsaparilla. This is no temporary appetizer, but a radical, scientific remedy. It makes life worth living.

For a fine Coffin or Casket, Robes, Trimmings, Wreaths, Funeral Supplies and management, go to KOETTING & HUNOLD, Undertakers and Embalmers, who carry a New, Clean Stock and give all orders best attention. Location opposite Catholic Church, Ste. Genevieve, Mo.

"Our readers will find Simmons Liver Regulator advertised in another column. We advertise it, and use it, and we commend it as a safe and excellent medicine. We became acquainted with it in Georgia where it is a standard family medicine. We do not deny the merits of other preparations, but simply state that this one commands confidence." From the "Journal, Lancaster, Minn."

The Government men were paid off last Friday, 14th inst., and the town was pretty lively for several days. Three men were arrested Saturday night for stealing and placed in jail, but when sheriff Biel went to feed them Monday morning the prisoners were missing. They made their escape Sunday night by knocking out several bricks in the wall and are still at large. Four more men were arrested Monday for stealing and fighting and are now working out their fines on the street.

The sad news reached Ste. Genevieve last Saturday of the death of Mr. Jacob Pilliard, Justice of the Peace of Jackson township, who was overcome by a foul air while rescuing a man who was cleaning out a well on his farm near Bloomsdale. He had employed a couple of men to do the job and was cutting wheat near by when one of the men called for assistance. Mr. Pilliard ran at once to the well and was let down by means of a bucket. He succeeded in getting the man out, but was himself overcome and when taken out of the well was more dead than alive. He never regained consciousness and died in a few hours. Mr. Pilliard was a young man who was well liked and respected by all his acquaintances. He leaves a wife and family who have the sympathy of the community in their sad loss.

While at work at the Government quarries at Little Rock Mr. Tanis Larose was struck by a falling rock last Thursday morning and died from his injuries at eleven o'clock that night. Mr. Larose was at work below the bluff when the rock, which weighed over two hundred pounds, fell and struck him, breaking his back-bone and several ribs and smashing his leg into a pulp. Dr. E. L. Moore, the government physician, was called and had the injured man removed to his home in this city. Together with Dr. Carrow an examination was made and it was found that Mr. Larose could only live a few hours at the most. Mr. Crane, the superintendent, tells us that no blasting had been done where the rock fell for over a year and thinks that the rock was loosened by the rains during the past week. Two other workmen were close by and narrowly escaped with their lives. Mr. Larose was a hard working man, forty-three years old and had been married twelve years; he leaves a wife and six children who were dependent upon him for their support. The remains were interred in the Valle Spring Catholic cemetery yesterday afternoon.

Louis Houck Sustained.

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo., June 12.—The Supreme Court today dismissed the contempt proceedings instituted by the law department of the Missouri Pacific Railway against Louis Houck. The real point of issue was the control of the St. Louis, Cape Girardeau and Fort Smith Railroad. Mr. Houck is in possession of the property, and the Missouri Pacific sought to dislodge him by having the property turned over to Eli Klotz as Receiver. The opinion filed today by Judge Gant leaves Mr. Houck in possession of the road.

Autonne Labruyere killed a black snake in a clover field near his house which measured seven feet in length. The snake was found by two little shepherd dogs which first attacked it. It is supposed that the snake swallowed eight little turkeys that were mislaid at the same time. Mr. Labruyere claims that it is the largest snake he ever killed. He killed it 37 years ago and 10 already this year, M. A.

40 YEARS THE STANDARD.

The Sweets and Lavarar Acquitted.

The case of the State vs. Milton and Basile Sweet and Noah Lavarar, charged with the murder of Price Ditch, was tried at Hillsboro last week.

Zeke Dix was the first witness, and he succeeded in convincing everybody that he is a very bad boy, if not totally depraved at least very unreliable. To the State's attorney he detailed the same story he told at the preliminary examination before Esq. Frazier, of meeting with Hampton at Festus on Saturday, sleeping with him in a straw stack, loading around the depot and drinking whiskey procured at Ditch's saloon on Sunday, meeting with the Sweets and Lavarar Sunday night and accompanying them to near the saloon, remaining outside with Hampton while the other three went in and did the murder and robbery and firing of the building, and going out into an old field and dividing the money. On cross examination he admitted to Attorney Dearing that he had told him that he was hired by Mr. Abernathy to tell the story he did, on promise of $150 cash, and being acquitted of the charge against him here and also of the charge of forgery in St. Francois county. On being asked by Mr. Dearing if he was not at Clardy's sawmill in St. Francois county on the night of the murder, and being asked in the name of God that now's the time to answer truthfully, he finally answered yes. On redirect examination he stated that his first story was true and the tale he had told Mr. Dearing was false.

Engineer Millard, of the M. & E. T. road, told of seeing two men standing near the saloon that night as he passed north with his train, and of finding the saloon burning when he returned. He also detailed efforts of the train men to put out the fire, and of his own discovery of the remains of a human body in the burned building. The only important part of his testimony was the seeing of the two men as he passed north, the theory of the State being that they were Hampton and Dix.

John F. Williamson and John Meyer, father-in-law and brother-in-law of Ditch, detailed suspicious actions on the part of Milton Sweet, who claimed to have seen three tramps around the saloon on Sunday and volunteered to go in search of them, in borrowing a hat from Meyer, saying that the cap he wore would "give him away," and in borrowing a pistol, saying that if he had kept the one he found a few days before near Crystal, he would not have to borrow, but that he had sent it to his brother on the Okaw river. They also told of Milton haying coal oil on his gloves and clothes, which is to support the theory that the body was saturated with oil to make it burn better. Mr. Millard had testified that the body was still burning when he discovered it, but he thought it was an alcohol fire.

The State introduced several other witnesses, but elicited nothing more corroborative of Dix's narrative.

Several witnesses, residents of St. Francois county, were introduced by the defense to prove that on the 25th of November last, the time of the murder, Dix was near Clardy's sawmill, in that county, and members of the families of defendants were introduced to prove an alibi. This testimony was the same as given in the preliminary examination. Sheriff Ogilvie and Mr. Miller of Farmington testified as to the statements made by Dix to Mr. Dearing, about his having been bribed to swear falsely, and that the statements were made voluntarily. A number of St. Francois county people were called who did not think Zeke Dix was at or near Clardy's sawmill on the 24th, 25th or 26th of November, 1894, and some who gave bad reputations to some of the witnesses for the defense; and the evidence was closed at half past five Tuesday.

The case was given to the jury a few minutes before 4 o'clock, and in a very short time they returned a verdict of "not guilty."—Democrat.

To Restore Color To Carpets.

It is a great mistake to lay a carpet and leave it for a lengthy period in its original position, especially when the colors are light or the texture at all delicate; obviously, the part near the door, for instance, will have much harder wear than any other, and unless the carpet be shifted once a year (or perhaps less often, according to the amount of use the room in question receives,) this part will soon look shabby. In this way, and with judicious care in the matter of keeping the hottest summer sun out of the room, the most valuable materials can be kept in good condition for a remarkable length of time. Osgill is the best and safest cleanser and restorer, but the carpet must be thoroughly brushed or shaken before moist applications of any kind are made; if this precaution is neglected the result is not nearly so satisfactory. Two gills of osgill to one ordinary sized pail of water is a good proportion, use a soft brush and apply the mixture lightly and evenly; rinsed off at once and briskly, by a second operator, with cold water. If the latter is soft it is all the better, but it must be changed very often so as to keep it quite clear. Understand that it is not real washing that is needed, and that there must be no spashing and no soaking, hence the use of the soft brush, which will not splutter. Of course rapidity is a great point, as the carpet will then dry more evenly; for this reason a hot day should be chosen, or, in winter one on which the room has been thoroughly well heated. Unfortunately, the osgill has a most unpleasant smell, which, however, very soon disappears with a little airing. There is a carpet soap, to be had from most good druggists, and sold for this particular purpose, but from personal experience I should advise the use of the real thing, as it is undoubtedly more effective.—The London Queen.

John T. Boverie's,

Popularity of Bicycles.

The magnitude of cycling as a pastime is hard to grasp in these end of century days, when one is told that "every body" is now a wheelman. Within the last five years the popular craze has extended to all civilized countries on the face of the globe. It is in America, however, that the greatest progress has been noted, and in cycle construction this country now leads the world.

In 1885 there were but six makers of cycles in this country, with a total output estimated at under 11,000 wheels. Five years later 17 manufacturers turned out in the neighborhood of 40,000 wheels.

From 17 to 126 is an amazing stride for a period of five years, but the latter sum accurately represents the number of factories turning out bicycles in America today. An output of nearly 500,000 machines the estimate for this year for this country alone.

A territorial division of the 126 cycle manufacturers shows that the Empire State alone has 25. The New England states have 24 between them; New Jersey, Pennsylvania and Maryland have 15; Indiana, Michigan and Ohio, 35; Wisconsin, Illinois and Missouri, 27. Between 18,000 and 22,000 hands are employed in these factories. Such enormous interests, growing at the present rate, cannot fail in a short time to take the lead and set the pace for domestic manufacturing trade.—New York Times.
